USTR Releases 2018 National Trade Estimate Report

Report Builds on Administration's Efforts to Remove Trade Barriers

Washington, DC – The Office of the U.S. Trade Representative (USTR) today released the 2018 National Trade Estimate (NTE), an annual report documenting foreign trade and investment barriers facing American exports around the world.

“The President is fully committed to addressing unfair foreign trade barriers through tough enforcement and the negotiation of new agreements that increase U.S. exports and support high-paying jobs for all Americans,” said Ambassador Robert Lighthizer. “We will use every available tool to ensure Americans are treated fairly.”

The findings of the 2018 NTE build upon the major pillars of President Trump's 2018 Trade Policy Agenda (<https://ustr.gov/about-us/policy-offices/press-office/press-releases/2018/february/trump-administration-sends-annual>) to secure market access for American farmers, ranchers and exporters, and hold our trading partners accountable by enforcing U.S. trade laws.

Background:

The NTE is the U.S. government's major annual report on the barriers to trade, investment, and services that American exporters and other businesses and their workers encounter around the world. The report is required to be published each year by March 31 and is submitted to the President and Congress. The USTR works closely with other government agencies and U.S. embassies to prepare the NTE.
